
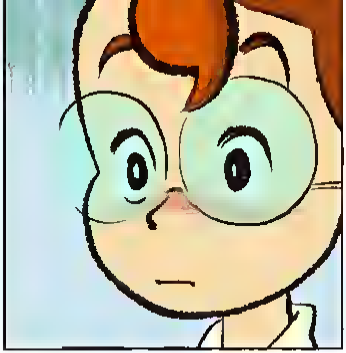
Hold on, let me turn on mine.
blink blink

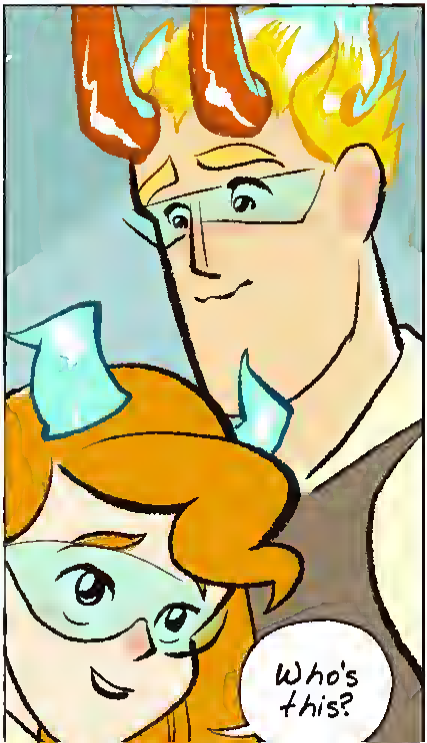
SHAAAA

What do you think?
Uh...

...that none of it is real.

Oh, wow.
It's nice. Nice and scary.
Doesn't exactly match your flavor, though.
My what?
David!
Cassie! Hey, girl!





Who's this?

So Amy, you're like a math genius or something? Maybe you could help me with my homework sometime. I suck at math.
Well, I'm not a genius, but I can...
Wait-- who told you that?

RINNG!!
Finally! Time to set some grub!

It lets you use augmented reality to change your appearance. Or technically speaking, it lets you change what people see when they look at you.
I can install it on your glasses if you want.
I think I'm good for now.
Obviously, we're not allowed to use mods in class. But here in the halls we're free to express ourselves anyway we want.

What's all this?!
It's a plugin called Mage Mod.

Cassie, this is Amy.
It's her first day at South Pines so I'm showing her around.
Nice to meet you.
You too!
Cassie has a flavor like red pepper.
She holds my gaze with a confidence I

Hey, put your glasses back on.

...
Why?

You're missing out on a lot. Trust me.

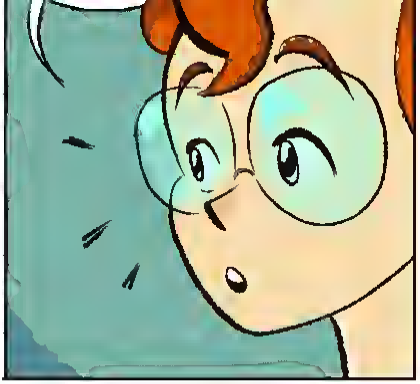
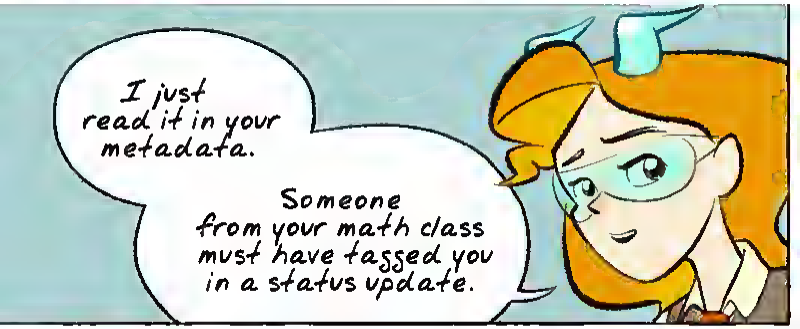
Wow.
Until now I thought net gear divided people, sending each person off into their own world.
But now I see net gear connects people





I just read it in your metadata.
Someone from your math class must have tagged you in a status update.

You can read stuff about me?
On your net gear glasses?

wish I had.

Her mods are a perfect match for her flavor.

So are David's, I guess.

Uh... yeah?
Sorry, Amy. I can help you change your privacy settings if that bothers you.
No, it's just--
--I mean, yeah that'd be great, but--
--I just didn't know people could see my information like that.

in ways I never thought possible.
